Students@UniSA

2 Learning about teaching

3 US slapshot for local student

3 A labour of love

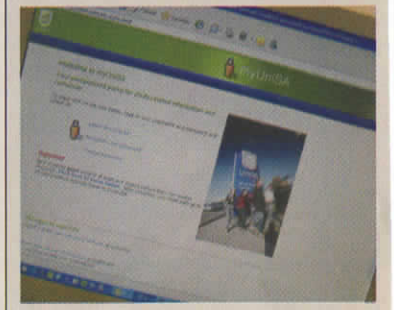

4 Family welcome for internationals

University of South Australia

April 2006

PORTAL to power

by Michèle Nardelli

Enter the portal – it might sound a bit spacey but it is one of the most important things new students can do to power through the administrative challenges of uni life and become a more successful student.

The myUniSA portal, introduced at UniSA two years ago, was designed to make student life easier, allowing them to manage their own information from one simple location